

[illegible]

The collage consists of eight photographs arranged in two rows of four. The top row shows a large group meeting with a banner in the background, a smaller group discussion around a table, and a close-up of people working on documents. The bottom row shows a presentation with a screen, a group of people looking at a document, a presentation with a screen, and a group of people looking at a large poster or map.